

Earlier this week, we started our new unit for IPC which is called 'Scavengers and Settlers.' This has a major focus on the early humans and how they lived compared to modern day life from the Stone, Bronze and Iron Ages. The key theme for this unit is survival.

As part of their remote learning, I would like them to research about the Stone Age and the very early humans. This can be presented as a fact file, a poster or in any other way that your child would like to. This will help them with their learning when returning to school.

Thank you.
